for students

an education guide for general education students

If you are a general education student, you have the right to attend school until you are 18.

Do you think you need more support in school?

If you attend a DCPS school, it is their obligation to find and evaluate students with disabilities to make sure they are getting the supports they need.

If you are interested in extra supports at school, School Justice Project may be able to help!

Did you know?

If you are 18 or older, you are your own educational decision-maker. That means, you get to decide what you want out of your education!

What can an education lawyer do for you?
An education lawyer can help you advocate for and enforce your rights. School Justice Project wants you to know your rights and use them!
